Children Have Their Day

The birth anniversary of Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru was celebrated with joy and as teachers took the stage children gleefully watched and applauded the performances. The children participated in fun races turning the morning though foggy into a joyful one. The teachers performed to the joy of the students. The assembly was conducted by them. The teachers then performed songs, dance, skit and recited poems to entertain them. The children loved every moment of it. At the end sweets were distributed to the children.

The President of the Society spoke at the end reflecting on children's upbringing and attitude. He thanked the teachers and inspired the children to follow their teachers and obey them. The children loved every moment of it. The programme and the day ended with distribution of sweets to the children and everybody present. It was an apt tribute for the man who loved children and enjoyed their company.
