I have been etching the map and sighting places where I have yet to take Regency to. Surprisingly it keeps widening, and I say that so many pillars have yet to be set up. This thought spurs me and I am off to it again with my trusted retinue. The dream of my elders is my Mission Impossible which is for me to achieve and make it possible, living truly to the motto of the Institute, “Where imagination achieves the impossible.”

The last twenty five years have witnessed students from the Institute going places after completing their schooling and examination and making significant places for themselves. I celebrate my joy, not by basking in the glory of what has been attained but by picking up the cudgel to start something new, something more. As long as I breathe, I hope and I shall perform.

Truth cannot be concealed, facts cannot be hidden. I am trying to give my best all the time. And this I get to assess by observing my Regents and their fruits of labour.

The guardians and parents of our dear Regents are testimony to my statement. I pray every day that Regency be blessed and Regents make a place for themselves in this world. Time will move on, and so shall we. Let time tell everyone what we have been doing all the while ever since we started.

I wish every one of you the best and a really good reading time.

Steering Committee Message

The time to give you a glimpse of what the years have been with us and what we have been doing. I am pleased to see the outcome of fruitful years and it comes in the shape of Regent. The entire school body is here from Classes Play Group to XII, housed in separate blocks and functioning with zeal and earnestness.

I hope and pray everyone has a good time reading it and derives information that one may want to know.

Steering Committee Message

How pleasant and wonderful it is to see the Regent in its entire flourish. Year after year the magazine is bringing us news and information about the achievement of Regency, to gladden our hearts. I am particularly delighted with The Regent, as it is a mirror to the good work Regency is doing. Regency is the epitome of that which we had dreamt of in our young age of having an Institution of the stature of Regency as of today, on our native soil. Our dedication and dreams have taken shape.

I wish everyone a joyful reading time with the Regent.

ODE to REGENCY

Singing songs has been my nature
For long this has been my stature
To be called a Regent
With the air vehement
Ever since I started
With my mind directed
To achieve my will
Until done I'd ne'er be still.

Regency sprang on her natal soil
Prospered and grew with her honest toil
Now over years twenty and five
In her agenda yet much to do
Calling young aspirants from all over
Guiding them to reach the top tower
In all their endeavours never to stop
With all their efforts to rise atop.

Regency who nestled in the mango grove
All the ten and twelve years strove
Now on the edge of two thousand twenty two
Towers elegant with bright sheen
She who stood the test of time
Had crossed the most trying time
And now is called the premiere institute
It is difficult to find her substitute.

Regency, we praise you
May you live to be a hundred and two?
When the days of glory fills you
And your seekers stand in queue
We will then start anew
To cross a centuries few
With all that we had started
And with all that yet would be needed.

Regency is our endless endeavour
Moving through times forever.
Regency we bow to you
In your blessings may we brew
The best of man's treasure
Done in utmost pleasure
Regency may your hand remain
On us as we sing the refrain.
